Start date: 1 October 2018 or as soon as possible thereafter

Magdalen College, Oxford and the Faculty of Philosophy, University of Oxford propose, if a suitable candidate applies, to appoint to an Official (Tutorial) Fellowship in Philosophy and an Associate Professorship or Professorship of Philosophy. This is a permanent position, subject to completion of a successful review. Applications are invited from candidates who are active researchers of outstanding ability in Philosophy, whose areas of research specialisation include Epistemology, and who have the ability to provide excellent tutorial teaching, classes, and lectures. The successful candidate will be required to engage in scholarly research and publication and to teach for at least three advanced papers in Philosophy, including at least one of the following: (101) Early Modern Philosophy, (102) Knowledge and Reality, and (104) Philosophy of Mind. Candidates should normally hold a PhD or be near completion. Candidates should show evidence of the potential to attract external funding for research, and evidence of experience at, or potential for, participating effectively in the other work required by the College and Faculty, including administration.

Applications, containing a completed application cover sheet (including the names and addresses of three referees), a detailed covering letter (which should set out information about the candidate’s research and the subjects which the candidate could offer to teach for the College and for the Faculty), a full curriculum vitae including a list of publications, and two samples of written work should be sent by email to Miss Liz Howdill (Academic Administrator, Magdalen College, Oxford, OX1 4AU), email liz.howdill@magd.ox.ac.uk (tel. (+44) 0 1865 276113; fax (+44) 0 1865 276094), to arrive by noon GMT on 23 November 2017. Candidates should ask their referees to send references directly to the Academic Administrator by this deadline without further prompting. Further particulars and an application cover sheet are located on the College website at: www.magd.ox.ac.uk/job-vacancies. It is anticipated that interviews will be held on 9 and 10 January 2018.

Applications are particularly welcome from women and black and minority ethnic candidates, who are under-represented in academic posts in Oxford.
