Magdalen College is seeking to appoint a Senior Outreach and Access Officer. The successful candidate will take a lead in the management of the College’s outreach and access programmes (involving work on Widening Access, Widening Participation, and Student Recruitment); and will have the responsibility for overseeing both the non-technical aspects of the College website, ensuring that its contents are up to date and communicate the College’s values and objectives effectively, and the content of the College’s social media communications in respect of outreach. This is a permanent position.

Magdalen College

Magdalen College was founded in 1458 by William Waynflete, Bishop of Winchester, and Lord Chancellor, on the site of the Hospital of St John, just outside Oxford’s East Gate, near the centre of the city. It is one of 38 independent, self-governing colleges which are at the heart of the University of Oxford’s success in providing an exceptional education for the most able students. At Magdalen there are currently 74 Fellows, of whom 43 are Tutorial Fellows, and the College aims to admit approximately 118 undergraduates and 75 graduates each year. Magdalen has many traditions, but prides itself on its modern and progressive outlook. Its top priority is academic excellence and it is committed to the tutorial system as a supportive and intellectually challenging method for undergraduate teaching. Applications for places at the College are encouraged from all students with outstanding academic potential, irrespective of background or country of origin.

Outreach and Access Work

The Senior Outreach and Access Officer will have responsibility for overseeing the implementation of Magdalen’s ambitious new outreach and access programmes and the smooth running of the College’s current outreach and access activities. The post-holder will need to investigate options for outreach and access initiatives and collaborations, presenting written and oral cases for the various possibilities to the College’s decision-making committees, and to prepare reports on outreach and access work for College committees as required.

There are three basic elements to the outreach work which the Senior Outreach and Access Officer will undertake. Firstly, Widening Access – work to attract applicants to the University of Oxford and to Magdalen from backgrounds within the United Kingdom which have limited tradition or success in receiving offers. Secondly, Widening Participation – activity designed to raise aspirations to study at any university or college providing higher education opportunities. Thirdly, Student Recruitment – work with schools and colleges
(whether from the UK or further afield) who traditionally have provided successful applicants to Oxford.

The Senior Outreach and Access Officer will play an important role in developing Magdalen’s contribution to Oxford’s implementation of its Access and Participation Plan, which is reviewed annually (the current agreement is available on the following page of the University website: https://academic.admin.ox.ac.uk/app/).

Late applications will not be accepted.

Interviews via Microsoft Teams are expected to take place on Tuesday 23 June 2020. Short-listed candidates will be asked in advance of the interview to prepare a short document (about 500 words), addressed to the relevant College committee, on how the College could improve the undergraduate admissions section of the Magdalen College website. During the interview they will be asked to make a five-minute-long presentation (without a projector or handout) on the subject “Why apply to Oxford?”.
