

From the Dean of Divinity
(College Chaplain)
The Reverend Dr Andrew Bowyer
Magdalen College Chapel

andrew.bowyer@magd@ox.ac.uk

Hello and welcome!

I'm Andrew, the College Chaplain. Magdalen is home to a diverse multi-cultural and multi-faith community. It's my job to offer non-judgemental pastoral support to everyone in the College, regardless of their religious beliefs. I also oversee activities that take place in our beautiful Chapel, where worship in the Christian tradition has been offered since the 15th Century.

Oxford hosts a number of chaplaincies for various religious traditions, as well as various 'belief groups', and I'm more than happy to connect you to these too, as appropriate. Additionally, the College has a multi-faith prayer room which is open to everyone and can be accessed by asking the Porters for the key.

I invite you to visit the Chapel whenever you like. It's a peaceful sanctuary at the heart of our community, where everyone is welcome: believers, sceptics, doubters, those who identify as LGBT+, and those who come just to appreciate the architecture and the music.

Our College is blessed to have a world-renowned Choir, with a repertoire ranging from mediaeval to modern, so be sure to come to a choral service or concert during your time in College to experience it for yourself.

A Term Card listing all Chapel services and events planned for Michaelmas will be emailed to you at the start of Term. Look out for an invitation to attend a tour of the Chapel, followed by pizza and drinks, in the Freshers' Week schedule. You might also like to drop-in to the Old Practice Room on any Tuesday night in Term, where from 9.30 pm, I host drinks and snacks for any who would like to come. In addition, everyone is welcome to attend meetings of the Addison Society on regular Thursdays from 1-2p.m. Cloisters IV:2 (lunch provided). It's a non-judgmental, informal and friendly place to discuss ethics, politics, spirituality, and the arts.

There are many opportunities for volunteering in the Chapel, so if you think you might like to help, please be in touch!

I'm also a member of the College's welfare team, so if you're ever looking for someone who will listen and offer support, please don't hesitate to send me an email and we can find a time for a chat.

I'm looking forward to meeting you!

Best wishes,
Andrew